

Belgian ENEX to assist Turkmenistan in using solar and wind energy

The Belgian ENEX process engineering SA company will be engaged in applying power-saving technology, particularly solar and win energy in Turkmenistan, an official Turkmen source reported.

The company's Director General Kun Minne whom Turkmen President Gurbangulu Berdimuhammedov received has submitted his proposals submitted on this issue. This direction is " by Turkmenistan's natural and climate conditions, which create opportunities for widespread practical use of renewable energy and specifically - solar and wind energy." In addition, unique research institutes of desert and sun function at the Academy of Sciences of Turkmenistan.

The ENEX Director also presented projects to develop cooperation in fuel and energy sector, processing industry and telecommunications field in Ashgabat. Berdimuhammedov expressed readiness to study these projects and added that Turkmenistan is interested in involving advanced development and innovative technologies and pursues policy to diversify the national economy, including modernization of production infrastructure.

Source: TrendNews (<http://news-en.trend.az/cis/turkmenistan/1462568.html>)

